

Intesa Sanpaolo included in “2019 Bloomberg's Gender Equality Index”

Confirmed by Bloomberg among the 230 companies included in the gender equality index.

Intesa Sanpaolo has been confirmed within the 2019 Gender equality Index, a thematic index on gender equality launched by Bloomberg in 2018.

The analysis of Bloomberg, transversal on all sectors, has covered a universe of more than 9,000 companies listed in the main world stock exchanges and has led to the inclusion in the index of 230 companies (104 in 2018).

Inclusion in the index is based on quantitative criteria, such as the presence of women in roles of responsibility and the contribution to projects for the promotion of gender equality in the community, and qualitative criteria, such as the facilitation for better reconciliation between professional and private life, the presence of policies to support a work environment based on gender equality, the presence of financial products specifically designed for women.

Intesa Sanpaolo is one of the three Italian companies included in the index, to further confirm our group's commitment to gender equality.
